

Dear Prospective Vendor,

The Inland Empire and San Diego/Imperial County Chapters of the Association for Professionals in Infection Control and Epidemiology (APIC) are presenting a one-day infection prevention and clinical epidemiology seminar.

Our target audience includes professionals in infection prevention, public health arena, clinicians, microbiologists, pharmacists, environmental service professionals, as well as front line, pre-hospital, and nursing staff. Based on attendance at our last two annual seminars, we anticipate 200 attendees.

The program is scheduled on Friday, September 16, 2022 from 7:30 am to 3:30 p.m. at the South Coast Winery Resort & Spa, 34843 Rancho California Rd, Temecula, CA 92591. We have allotted time for participants to visit vendor displays during registration, at the morning break, lunch break, and afternoon break.

We're Looking for speakers to fit our "Gen IP" theme. If you have presentation on any of the below topic ideas, please reach out to our vendor liaisons below.

- IP practices during pandemic/in crisis
- SNF or new IP experiences/practices
- Novel infection control & epidemiology practices, technology, process (e.g. whole genome sequence, informatics, reporting, cleaning methods)
- IP-focused mental health, time management, durability
- Surveillance & epidemiology
- State/local Public Health Update
- Outbreak investigations, case studies

We welcome sponsors for fun conference materials such as pens, folders, vendor-labeled items and bags, etc. prepared for at most 200 attendees. These will be provided to attendees at check in. For more information, please contact duane.anderson@stryker.com, Nicholas.Buonfiglio@pdihc.com, or diego.davila@molnlycke.com for details. We look forward to your participation in this educational program.

Sincerely,
